7 Degrees of Preparation.

It’s essential to switch to MINI Approved Cold Weather Tires well before the winter weather begins. In fact, cold weather tires should be installed when the temperature drops below 7 °C. At this temperature, the rubber compound in summer or all-season tires will harden, resulting in reduced grip, whereas MINI Approved Cold Weather Tires will remain flexible and thereby maximize contact with the road. Don’t get caught in the cold. Switch to MINI Approved Cold Weather Tires at 7 °C, and motor confidently into the winter months ahead.
